

Tutor Certification

The SDSU tutor training course is certified through the College Reading and Learning Association (CRLA).

Why is Certification Important?

- It provides recognition and positive reinforcement for your successful work from an international organization
- It sets a standard of skills and training for tutors
- It allows our program to certify all tutors who meet the criteria

Levels of Certification

- Regular
- Advanced
- Master

How can I get Certified?

You must complete the tutor training course / program and tutor a minimum of 25 hours for each level of certification.

What are the Benefits of Certification?

- Professional Development – you can list certification on your resume
- Salary increases are based on certification
- Certification transfers to other certified colleges and universities

How Should I List Certification on my Resume?

This recognition could fit under several categories including “Certifications”, “Recognition”, “Awards”, and others. An example of how to list certification is included below...

- Achieved Level I Tutor Certification through College Reading and Learning Association